

SHREYA KUMARI

FULL-STACK DEVELOPER (MERN)

PROFILE

Final-year B.S (CS & Data Analytics) student at IIT Patna, seeking full-stack /backend internship or full-time roles. Built 2 production-grade MERN applications used by 200+ IIT peers, integrating real-time features (Socket.IO), AI APIs, (Gemini), and cloud storage (Cloudinary). Strong in REST APIs, JWT auth, and scalable backend design.

PROJECTS

CampusHub – AI-Powered Student Collaboration Platform

MERN + Socket.IO + Gemini AI | github.com/shreya/campushub |

- Deployed platform serving 200+ distance-learning students at IIT Patna for notes, Q&A, and collaboration
- Reduced peer doubt-resolution time by ~65% via real-time discussion rooms built with Socket.IO
- Integrated Gemini AI API as an instant fallback tutor, handling ~50 AI queries/day when peers are unavailable
- Built post & comment system with nested threads; 500+ posts created within first month of launch
- Implemented JWT authentication with refresh-token rotation
- Enabled structured file sharing (notes, PDFs) with Cloudinary CDN

Secure Health Record Management System

MERN + Cloudinary | github.com/shreya/healthrecords

- Built a multi-role (patient / doctor / admin) system managing 100+ digital health records centrally
- Eliminated scattered paper records; reduced average record-retrieval time from ~10 min to under 5 sec
- Designed protected REST APIs with Express middleware ensuring zero unauthorized data access in testing
- Enabled secure medical document uploads via Cloudinary with file-type validation and size limits
- Architected scalable backend (Node.js + Express + MongoDB)

ACHIEVEMENTS & CODING PROFILE

- Solved 100+ DSA problems on LeetCode and 190 problems on Striver's A2Z DSA Sheet
- Participated in hackathons like Pathway X Iota Cluster IIT Ropar Gen AI Hackathon organised by IIT Ropar
- Completed full-stack web development internship focused on MERN stack applications
- Actively building scalable backend systems and real-time applications using Socket.IO and REST APIs
